

Fluffy Meets the Dinosaurs

McMullan, Kate

Fluffy rules!

Wade and Maxwell put Fluffy in his play yard. They put in lots of toy dinosaurs, too. "Fluffy meets the dinosaurs!" said Wade. Hey, dinosaurs, thought Fluffy. "It is the age of the dinosaurs", said Wade. "Dinosaurs rule the earth." "Those little things?" thought Fluffy. "Dinosaurs are fierce," said Maxwell. "They are very, very powerful." You must be joking, thought Fluffy. Wade picked up a long dinosaur. He stomped it around. "I am thunder lizard!" he roared. In your dreams, thought Fluffy.

Maxwell picked up a big-headed dinosaur. He stomped it around. "I am king of dinosaurs!" he growled. "T-rex rules!" I don't think so, thought Fluffy. Maxwell made T-rex bite Wade's dinosaur. Wade made his dinosaur roar. The two dinosaurs began to fight. Wade and Maxwell made strange dinosaur noises with their mouths. Soon more dinosaurs joined the battle. Hey, watch the food dish! thought Fluffy. You're messing up my play yard! But the dinosaurs kept fighting. "Math time!" called Ms. Day. Wade and Maxwell put the dinosaurs down. They went back to their seats. Fluffy was alone with the dinosaurs. Fluffy began running around his yard. He kick-boxed the thunder lizard. He took a flying leap and stomped on

T-rex. He kept kicking and stomping. Soon, not a dinosaur was left standing. The age of the dinosaurs is over, Fluffy thought.
Now it is the age of guinea pigs.
Fluffy rules!