

Clark's Garden Party

Clark was having a garden party. He went to the market to get party food. At the market he parked his car and grabbed a cart.

Clark was smart. He had a list of all the party food he needed to get. He needed a large carp fish, a jar of jam, a jug of milk, a bag of nuts, a box of tarts, and five ice cream bars. He charged his food on his credit card. Then Clark rolled the cart out to the car.

In the garden, Clark placed a large tarp on the table. Clark set the large carp, the jar of jam, the jug of milk, the bag of nuts, and the box of tarts on the table. Clark left the five ice cream bars in the cooler.

Mark, Barb, Bart, and Marge came to the garden party. They drank the jug of milk. They ate the large carp, the jar of jam, the nuts, and the box of tarts. When it got dark, they ate ice cream bars under the stars.
